

PROQUEST 5000™

THE ULTIMATE GENERAL REFERENCE DATABASE

ProQuest 5000™ is a comprehensive online serials database that provides access to over 7,900 journals with over 3,700 available in full text. Together, these titles constitute a complete core collection of journals and periodicals in all key academic areas to provide departments in your institution with the information they need. Records in the database date back as far as 1971 and full-text coverage begins as early as 1987.

CONTENTS

ProQuest 5000™ brings together selected databases from the ProQuest delivery system that cover a range of disciplines to give every member of your institution comprehensive access to the material they need for research, teaching and study.

ACADEMIC RESEARCH LIBRARY

The largest resource within ProQuest 5000™ is the Academic Research Library, a multi-disciplinary resource that runs through many of the subject areas covered in more detail by the individual databases in ProQuest 5000™. It is a complete general reference resource, providing information on a variety of subject areas, including the arts, business, children, education, general interest, health, humanities, international, law, military and social sciences.

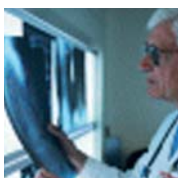

HUMANITIES, SOCIAL SCIENCES AND EDUCATION

Social Sciences PlusText™ integrates abstracts and indexing from H.W. Wilson's Social Sciences Index database with complete articles for more than half of the publications listed. This resource is designed to meet the needs of social science professionals as well as students, instructors and researchers in the field, providing an excellent collection of information on topics such as addiction studies, gerontology, economics, international relations, minority studies, urban studies and many more.

ProQuest Education Complete™ is the most comprehensive database of educational information available. It is an essential resource for anyone needing information on primary, secondary or higher education, providing full-text coverage of a wide range of topics including adult education, AIDS education, art education, child abuse, child welfare, children's literature, developmental psychology, distance education, drug education, learning disabilities and more.

ProQuest Career & Technical Education™ is an excellent source of vocational information for any institution offering technical courses. Students and faculty members can use the database to research virtually any vocational/technical topic, including technology, healthcare, building trades, auto mechanics, sales and retail, accounting, graphic design, photography and nursing.

ProQuest Religion™ is an indispensable resource for anyone researching religious issues and perspectives. It covers formal theological studies and commentary on topics of general interest from the perspectives of specific religions as well as religious news and commentary, details on doctrines and philosophies and reports on religious history and related archaeology.

HEALTH AND MEDICAL

ProQuest Medical Library™ is the ideal resource for researchers and students in academic, hospital, and corporate libraries, combining MEDLINE indexing with the full text of thousands of articles. All the major healthcare specialisations are covered by the resource and full-text representation includes all charts, photographs and other graphic elements that were published with the original article.

ProQuest Health™ serves the spectrum of users looking for healthcare information, delivering thousands of full-text/full image articles directly to your desktop. From medical, nursing and allied health professionals to planners, researchers, administrators and even consumers looking for solutions to their health concerns, ProQuest Health™ is a valuable resource.

Pharmaceutical News Index® provides bibliographic information and indexing for all articles published in 17 key international pharmaceutical, healthcare, biotechnology, medical device and cosmetic industry newsletters.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY

Applied Science & Technology PlusText™ integrates indexing from H.W. Wilson's authoritative Applied Science & Technology resource with full-image articles from hundreds of leading journals focusing on aeronautics, chemical engineering, computer technology, electrical engineering, mechanical engineering, physics, telecommunications, transportation, nuclear engineering and many other fields.

General Science PlusText™ is based on H.W. Wilson's General Science Abstracts database and offers online access to the full-text of leading popular science journals. The resource enables students to develop a deeper understanding of many different fields, including astronomy, biology, earth science, genetics, medicine and nutrition.

ProQuest Computing™ is an excellent resource for students, instructors, IT professionals and consumers who need current information on virtually any computing topic, including software, hardware, e-commerce, Web site development, intranets and extranets, systems design, databases, and technology management. The database also contains thousands of product reviews.

ProQuest Telecommunications™ is an online resource designed to keep you at the heart of this ever-changing industry. It provides comprehensive, full-text coverage of a range of issues including telecommunications technologies, companies, people, products and market conditions worldwide and is the ideal resource for professionals, researchers and students researching the industry or its technology.

BUSINESS AND MANAGEMENT

ABI/INFORM® Global™ has been providing business professionals, researchers and students with comprehensive business and management information for over thirty years. The resource contains more than 1,800 current sources, with over 1,080 available in full text, to provide in-depth coverage of business conditions, trends, corporate strategies and tactics, management techniques and a wide variety of other business topics.

ProQuest Asian Business™ provides the perfect complement to ABI/INFORM® Global™, offering full-text coverage of information on companies, economies, markets and overall business conditions throughout the Eastern Hemisphere.

ProQuest Banking Information Source™ is the source for information on trends and events as well as people, products and companies involved in the financial services industry. The database is a valued tool in many different types of research environments, including academic libraries, business schools, government agencies and accounting and legal firms. Coverage includes full-text articles from leading journals and newspapers as well as sources such as industry newsletters, School of Bank Marketing Papers, Stonier theses and the Bank Marketing Associations Golden Coin Awards competition entries.

ProQuest Accounting & Tax Database™ is an essential tool for financial professionals and researchers and students in the field. It combines the full text of articles with detailed abstracts and indexing from hundreds of accounting and tax publications, with official releases from the AICPA and FASB and selective indexing of tax-related information in thousands of business journals. For each article cited in the database, more than a dozen elements are indexed, including bibliographic information, subjects, company names and ticker symbols, whilst detailed abstracts help researchers identify the articles they need.

THE POWER OF PROQUEST

ProQuest is a unique and dynamic online information system that offers a number of powerful search and retrieval tools to help users identify the articles they need. Full-text articles are added to ProQuest resources almost as soon as they appear on the newsstand, ensuring users have access to the latest information for their field. Where the full text of an article is not available, our comprehensive linking technology, ProQuest CrossLinks™, ensures that links can be created from abstract and index records within ProQuest to the full text of articles from external resources such as e-journals or your library catalogue. This linking is facilitated thanks to ProQuest's team of professional editors, who create detailed abstracts and indexing for every article that appears in ProQuest.
